A little history...

Dargate Lavender and Mint, c. 1830 by Margo Krager

Dipping into her famous Dargate Book of over 2100 vintage cotton fabric swatches, Margo Krager has designed this beautiful reproduction collection in a palette that maintains the integrity of both pattern and color of the original designs first printed 175 years ago.

"My inspiration was that wonderful minty-green coloration which is so evocative of that 1830s European look in cotton prints," explained Margo. "I liked the way the lavender played off those great greens." The floral sprigs, trailing vines and ombre designs make for lovely quilting combinations in atypical colorations.

Margo's Dargate Book continues to be a source of inspiration for beautiful reproduction fabrics. Lavender and Mint features authentic replicas of the original vintage fabrics found in the 19th Century fabric book.
